

<http://pacificpalisades.patch.com/articles/st-matthew-s-school-student-holds-e-waste-drive#photo-14105436>

PacificPalisadesPatch

St. Matthew's School Student Holds E-Waste Drive

Student's initiative to collect discarded electronics spurred through environmental education nonprofit Grades of Green.

- By Matthew Sanderson
- Email the author
- April 25, 2013
 - Email
 - Print
 - Comment

Upload Photos and Videos

Flag as inappropriate

1 of 1

Grace Cortese, of St. Matthew's School in Pacific Palisades, holds an electronics waste drive on April 20, 2013 for Earth Month. Credit Grades of Green

Upload Photos and Videos

Grace Cortese, student at St. Matthew's Parish School in Pacific Palisades, led an electronic waste drive on April 20 for Earth Month in the school's parking lot.

Cortese is a youth board member with the environmental education non-profit Grades of Green, which also held a glittering fundraiser earlier this month at the Bel Air Bay Club.

As you can see in the photo, Cortese was able to fill several wooden pallets with discarded electronics.

Have photos from your contributions to Earth Month? Post them here by clicking the "Upload" button above!

Pacific Palisades Patch: Facebook | Twitter | E-mail Updates

Related Topics: Earth Day, Earth Day 2013, Earth Month, Grades of Green, and St. Matthew's Parish School

What did you do for Earth Day? Tell us in the comments.